

Deed Settles Long Dispute Over Tract of Land

Controversy Traces Title of Property Back To Its Original Settlers

The dispute between the state auditor's office and former Congressman George Huddleston over the title to Section 16, Township 19, Range 1 East, in Shelby County, has been closed by the state delivering a deed to Mr. Huddleston to the land. This action was taken under Section 6070 of the Code of Alabama, which provides for a deed upon proof of more than 20 years adverse possession prior to May, 1908.

The history of this parcel of land is a story of pioneer days. In the early 50's, when the locality was being originally settled, A. J. Baxley, Angus Sullivan, and Glenn H. Moore migrated from South Carolina into Shelby County and built dwellings on this land. Baxley bought his 240 acres from the state, but no deed ever was given him. Sullivan and Moore, it seems, merely settled on the land and took their rights for granted. After living on the land for some 10 to 20 years, Moore and Sullivan deeded it to others. In 1887 it was bought from the then owners by Weldon and Co. under warranty deeds. From this owner the title passed through several parties down to Mr. Huddleston, who bought and paid for the land in good faith in 1926.

The original settlers, of course, are long since dead. However, they have numerous grandchildren and great-grandchildren now living in Shelby and Jefferson Counties. Some of these descendants are leading citizens and expressed amazement upon hearing that there could be any doubt concerning the rights of their ancestors to the lands on which they reared their families.

"This is merely one of many cases in which school lands have been lost through the neglect of

Legion Auxiliary Holds Meeting

Hendrick-Hudson Unit, American Legion Auxiliary, met in regular session Thursday afternoon, January 19, at the home of Mrs. W. M. Wyatt.

The meeting was opened with the Lord's Prayer given in unison, and led by Mrs. J. I. Reid, chaplain. The flag salute was given and "The Star Spangled Banner" was sung.

A short business period was held during which a project to erect a memorial boulder was presented by the United Daughters of the Confederacy through Mrs. C. H. Mahaffey, of that organization. The Auxiliary voted to join in this project, making it a joint boulder to World War as well as Confederate soldiers.

Mrs. J. D. Smith of Birmingham, department president of the Auxiliary, was a distinguished guest of the unit, and spoke at this time on Auxiliary activities for the remainder of this year, and also brought news of the recent presidents and secretaries conference which convened in Montgomery on the fifteenth.

Mrs. A. E. Baumgartner, chairman of the legislative committee and program chairman for this meeting, introduced the program by a short treatise on Robert E. Lee, whose birthday was observed on the meeting day. She introduced Mrs. Velma Smiley, department chairman on legislation, who discussed the Legion's five-point legislative program, and gave interesting facts concerning the proposed bills in the following order: Protection of World War widows and orphans, adequate national defense, universal service, employment of veterans.

Hicks 9-Cent Sale Starts Saturday

The Hicks Ben Franklin Store, in Montevallo, announces that their greatest value-giving event starts next Saturday morning when they throw open their doors for their 9-Cent Sale.

This occasion marks the greatest array of bargain combinations ever offered in Montevallo. It includes everything in the store, and that means there are literally thousands of every-day novelties and household articles which may be had for this 9-cent offer.

Get one of the big circulars describing this event. You will be amazed to find what you can buy for only 9 cents at Hicks during the week beginning next Saturday.

Here is an outstanding item picked from the circular: Dull finish ringless rayon hosiery, in all the season's best colors. These will sell for 9 cents a leg.

Girl Scout "Little House" Nearly Finished

Girl Scouts will realize that dreams do come true as the much talked of and dreamed of "little house" will be completed by the end of this week, and ready for the little girls to move in by the first of February.

The Girl Scout Council will hold "Open House" or have an old fashioned "house warming" in the near future and invite everyone to come and look over this little house.

It will be available to any women's organizations for a nominal sum. The Girl Scout Council voted Mrs. E. H. Wills, Mrs. A. W. Vaughan, and Mrs. J. L. Appleton as house committee and they will have complete charge of the little house.

The Girl Scout Council is well pleased with its building program and wish to thank everyone who so willingly contributed time or material to this civic project. However, there are many things that the little girls will need in their new home, a partial list of which is given below: Coal hod, cocoa mat and foot scraper for front and back doors, card tables, pottery type dishes in colors, kitchen equipment, tea towels, tea kettle, laundry heater, paper rack and paper towels, hand towels, dish pan, soap, floor lamp, radio, light bulbs, silver, work table, mirror (for bathroom), 1 large and 1 small shovel.

STUDY CLUB PARTY

The Montevallo Study Club is planning to have a benefit party at the Masonic Hall on the night of February 10. Further details will be published in next week's paper.

Pay Poll Tax

February 1 is the last day for payment of poll tax.

Citizens should remember that votes upon important state questions will be called for this year.

You will not be allowed to express yourself if your poll tax is not paid up to date.

Evangelism Is Baptist Theme

Speakers in Every Active Church Are on Program For Next Sunday

"The Shelby County Baptist Association has planned to have a speaker in every active Baptist Church in the association for next Sunday, January 29," said Kirk Lucas, Moderator of the Association, Wednesday. "This is known as the Laymen's Movement, and exchange of pulpits of most all pastors. The theme of our work is Evangelism."

"There are a few churches that we have failed to find speakers for at present," said Mr. Lucas, "but we are able to announce the following engagements definitely:"

Aldrich, Rev. Flitts; Antioch No. 1, Dev. D. Z. Woolley; Arkwright, Mr. R. R. Hunt; Bay Springs, Rev. W. J. Ingram; Bethel, Rev. C. M. Nolen; Calcasieu, Mr. A. C. Adams; Calera, Rev. O. M. Moore.

Columbiana, Dr. J. I. Riddle; Concord, Rev. Ottis Williams; Dogwood Grove, Underwood, Mr. B. B. Curry; Enon, Rev. J. W. Jones; Fourmile, Rev. R. R. Brasher; Harpersville, Rev. E. E. Wells; Helena, Rev. E. H. Mullins.

Liberty, Rev. S. A. Vaughan; Macedonia, Mr. D. B. Smith; New Hope, Mr. L. C. Mullins; Pelham, Mr. G. C. Burks; Providence, Mr. I. M. Watson; Pleasant Grove, Mr. W. N. McKathen; Shelby, Mr. G. W. Walton; Siluria, Rev. B. F. Hixon; Vincent, Rev. T. J. Halfacre; Klein, Mr. L. B. Riddle.

BAPTIST CHURCH

The pastor will speak Sunday morning on "The Fruit of the Spirit." The theme for the Sunday evening service will be "The Tenses of the Christ." The Sunday School hour is 9:45 a.m. The Baptist Training Union meets at 6:45 p.m.

The temperance picture, "The Pay Off," will be shown again next Sunday evening after the evening service — with good sound equipment. This is a very fine picture and everyone should see it and get its message. The showing time is only twenty minutes. We invite you to come and see it Sunday evening.

Where Are You, Walter B.? Step Forward And Claim Your Honors

The Times has received a copy of a letter from Earle M. Hearne, addressed to Walter B. Ozley, of Calera, which indicates that Mr. Ozley would receive a very distinct honor at the hands of Mr. Hearne — if Mr. Hearne could only catch up with Walter B.

Now, in order to get the thread of the story straight from the start, we will explain that Earle Hearne is Safety Director of the American Legion, Department of Alabama.

As everybody knows, Walter B. is State Highway Patrolman in Shelby County. Furthermore, Mr. Ozley is Safety Director for the Fifth District, American Legion, Department of Alabama.

Mr. Ozley has won an award from the Alabama Department of the American Legion, which the department awarded him for the exceptional and outstanding safety work promoted and carried out by him in the Fifth District.

From here on, the letter of Mr.

Hearne to Walter B. is sufficient to tell the story:

"Dear Comrade Ozley:

"I have endeavored to contact you on two or three trips through Calera, but in each instance I missed you. The objective of my attempted contacts with you was to present to you the District Safety Award, which was awarded to you for the safety work promoted and carried on by you in the Fifth District for the American Legion as Safety Director for that District.

"In view of my failure to contact you personally I am taking a substitute means of making the presentation in mailing the award to you.

"I sincerely hope that this little token will be of service to you, but at the same time I want to caution you against cutting yourself with it.

"With kindest regards and best wishes for a continued successful Safety Campaign, I am, sincerely,

High School Senior Died Last Sunday

Morgan Harris, age 19, senior student at Montevallo High School, died last Sunday at his home in the Pea Ridge community. He had been ill for a short time with pneumonia.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at Macedonia Church, conducted by Rev. Roper. His classmates at Montevallo High School acted as pallbearers. A large number of the high school student body and faculty members attended.

Surviving young Harris are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Harris; one brother and four sisters.

Annual Meeting Of Baptist W. M. S.

Monday, January 19th, the annual meeting of the Shelby W. M. S. Association was held at Montevallo. The superintendent, Mrs. W. J. Weldon, was presiding officer. The meeting opened by singing "Jesus Calls Us." Prayer was offered by Rev. D. Z. Woolley.

A memorial service was conducted by Mrs. Luther Curlee during which Mrs. C. D. Cowart sang "Saved by Grace."

Bethel society was recognized as being 100 per cent giving to missions.

The associational officers gave an account of the work done and goals reached during 1938. The new officers came to the front and Dr. Fred Pearson led in prayer that they might go forward in a great way with the work for the new year.

A committee was appointed to inspect and judge the posters during

NEGRO KILLED IN CUTTING AFFRAY AT COLUMBIANA

Mose Sutton killed Dad Robinson at Columbiana Tuesday afternoon, it was reported here Wednesday. Both participants in the fatal incident were Negroes.

The report said that Mose heard that Dad had said he was going to kill him, whereupon Mose proceeded to go to see Dad and find out of he meant what he said. Dad said he did, and Mose forthwith drew his barlow and started to cutting upon Dad. When he had finished, the dissected body of Dad was scattered over the premises.

Mose went home, changed his bloody clothes for a clean suit, and went to the officers of the law and reported his performance. "If you was going to kill Dad, why didn't you use a gun?" Mose was asked. He replied, "I knowed my knife wouldn't snap."

Appals Being Made in Fight On Paralysis

"March Of Dimes" Campaign To Aid in War On Dread Childhood Disease

Before we go "over the top" in what we believe will be the most successful drive ever conducted in this great cause—the fight to stamp out infantile paralysis—we want to thank all who have taken a part in this great fight, either by work or gift. Such public-spirited action is the mark of a good citizen. There are no ribbons, no decorations, in this war, but we know that you will find your own reward for the fight you are going to make, in the consciousness that you have done your part to make America safer for the children of today and tomorrow.

Men of science who have sworn to conquer the four horsemen of the modern American Apocalypse—Panic, Terror, Epidemic, and Human Wreckage of Infantile Paralysis—will be able to carry on their work, because you have done yours.

1. Scientific Research; 2. epidemic first aid; 3. proper care, disseminating to doctors and parents, present and new knowledge of the proper care which may prevent sad after-effects, such as crooked backs, curvature of the spine, twisted bodies, contracted limbs; 4. Dollars to orthopedic centers, hospitals, clinics, for combating human wreckage.

To know you helped in all these steps will be your reward and it is one beyond value. You can't put a price-tag on a child's happiness. This year you will be working not only for all the children of America in general, you will be working personally for the children of your own community, the children of your friends, your own children.

The fear in the heart of every mother and father that their child may be stricken with this dread disease, has solidly united the nation in this fight against infantile paralysis.

More than 3,000 counties, more than 13,000 communities, are mobilizing for the fight and ready to go "over the top."

On every front, the celebration of the president's birthday and the March of Dimes are ready to move. Let's lead Montevallo triumphantly

Methodists Hold Zone Meeting

The Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church held its first zone meeting of the new year at the Montevallo Methodist Church, Wednesday, January 18, at 10 o'clock, with Mrs. Frank Denson of Calera, zone leader, presiding.

The devotional program opened by singing "Publish Glad Tidings." Rev. J. M. Shores, pastor of the Montevallo Methodist Church, led the devotional program and made an inspiring talk.

Following the singing of "Stand Up For Jesus," Mrs. J. P. Kelly of Montevallo gave the address of welcome, the response being given by Mrs. Edwards of Calera. A duet, "My Task," was then rendered by Mrs. J. L. Appleton and Mrs. A. E. Baumgartner.

The guest speaker for the occasion was Mrs. J. V. Masters of Tuscaloosa, District Secretary of the missionary society, whose talk was enjoyed by everyone.

Lunch was served in the church kitchen, cafeteria style, under the capable supervision of Mrs. W. C. Weems and Mrs. J. A. May, and their committee.

Delegates from Calera, Camp Branch, Helena, Siluria, Ebenezer, and Montevallo attended the meeting, with Calera and Montevallo Auxiliaries acting as joint hostesses for the day.

ELECTIONS THIS YEAR

Politically this is an off-year, as no regular elections of public officials will be held.

However, there will be, in all probability, some elections of more importance than choosing public officials.

Those elections which are expected in 1939 will be on very important state questions. Every citizen should vote on them.

And remember—if you are due a poll tax, it must be paid not later than February 1. If not, you will be denied your vote this year.

NATIONAL FOUNDATION FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS

On January 3, 1938, the new National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis was incorporated under the laws of the State of New York. Its creation was sponsored in September, 1937, by President Franklin D. Roosevelt. The Foundation began its activities by setting up committees to begin the vast task of unifying the fight against "maiming death" throughout the country.

Over the months since the Foundation was organized the men of the original organization, men of science and education, have met and devoted their time and energy to planning of and putting into the field a vigorous fighting machine to combat the relentless disease of infantile paralysis.

At a meeting assembled November 10, 1938, the trustees of the National Foundation ordered permanent mobilization to set up a permanent far reaching program for raising funds needed in the war against infantile paralysis.

All energies were centered in organizing every county and community in the United States so that the President's birthday parties and local drives for funds may produce results before and on January 30, the President's 57th birthday.

After January 30 the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, in cooperation with the committee for the celebration of the President's birthday, will proceed, with the advice of the county birthday chairmen and the local committees under these county chairmen, to organize and set up permanent chapters of the national foundation, embracing every county in the United States.

Dr. A. E. Wight, Federal Bureau of Animal Industry, says that by the time another winter rolls around we will have accomplished what—20 year ago—many farmers said would never happen. In fact, even some experts themselves had their doubts. But by the first of next November—if things continue to move as they have been—the whole United States (with its 48 States, and three thousand and some counties, and several million cattle herds) will be paritically free from bovine tuberculosis.

Winter on the farm is a good time to keep up-to-date on the latest developments in agriculture and home-making. One fruitful source of information is the daily broadcast, Auburn Farm and Family Forum, over Station WAPI, Birmingham.

More than 140 million trees were planted in the national forests during 1938 on 240 square miles—an area four times the size of the District of Columbia—according to a preliminary report of the Forest Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Winter legume planting has made rapid strides in Alabama since 1918, when the first seed were planted, according to A. N. Culver, manager of the Farmers Marketing and Exchange Association. Figures show, he said, that 1,525 pounds were planted as compared with over 12 million pounds in 1938.

MONTEVALLO LOCAL NEWS

Missionary Society Business Meeting

The Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church held its regular business meeting at the church Monday afternoon, January 23, at 3 o'clock, Mrs. J. P. Kelly presiding.

Mrs. C. H. Mahaffey conducted the devotional service at the conclusion of the business session. Her subject was "New Horizons in Personal Service," and she read portions of the 5th chapter of Luke, then pointed to the many different kinds of personal service which that one chapter alone contained as having been done by Jesus.

"Have Thine Own Way," a hymn of consecration and service, was sung, after which Mrs. Mahaffey read the famous poem, "My House by the Side of the Road." Mrs. W. P. McConaughy led the prayer which followed.

After singing another song the meeting was dismissed by the members repeating the watchword.

Farmers In Valley Can Get Seedlings

Auburn, Ala.—Rufus H. Page, extension forester, announced today that 500,000 pine and black locust seedlings are being made available this year to farmers in 15 Tennessee Valley counties for farm planting.

Calling attention to the fact that few farmers took advantage of the opportunity to obtain these trees last year from the TVA, Mr. Page said that farmers this year would be contacted by county agents. Only 250,000 seedlings were available last year, he said.

Pines can be set out up to March 15 and black locusts can be set out as late as April first with very little loss of trees, according to Page. Orders have been placed and agreements made by farmers to plant 233,000 this spring.

Agreements are made by farmers and the TVA through the county agent where the government agency will supply the trees provided proper location and protection for the trees are provided. The county agent and TVA workers show the farmers how to plant the trees and the latter does his own planting. R. M. Reaves, assistant extension supervisor, is in general charge of this forestry program in the 15 counties.

The counties are Blount, Colbert, Cullman, Etowah, DeKalb, Marshall, Jackson, Madison, Limestone, Lawrence, Morgan, Lauderdale, Franklin, Marion, and Winston. Mr. Page urges farmers of these counties to get in touch with their county agent regarding this forestry program.

IN MEMORY OF LITTLE WAYNE MOORE

Our hearts are drawn closer toward Heaven today,
For God has taken our jewel away.
He's gone to live with Jesus above,
Where all is peace, joy and love.
We miss his sweet face, his voice and his smile,
But we know we shall see him again after a while.
We can't understand why he had to go,
So innocent, so sweet, on this earth here below.
But we shall let Jesus have His own way,
And we'll understand it all some day.
So cheer up friends and cease your weeping,
Little Wayne is only sleeping;
he's not dead.
Just gone to rest where all is joy and blest.
And when our race on earth is o'er,
We'll meet little Wayne on the Golden Shore.

Youth Activities at Seventh World's Poultry Congress

Youth will have its share in the Seventh World's Poultry Congress and Exposition to be held in Cleveland, Ohio, July 28 to August 7, 1939. The Hall of Youth, pictured above, has been set aside for the young people. Elaborate programs are being arranged to fill every hour of the day, every day. There will be educational meetings, entertainment, poultry judging and poultry demonstrations, recreational periods, and supervised visits to various sections of the huge exposition—the aim being to give future poultrymen an invaluable perspective of the possibilities the poultry industry holds.

Active plans are under way for attendance of groups representing 4-H Clubs, Future Farmers of America, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and many other youth organizations from all sections of this country. It is also probable that young people's delegations representing many of our overseas neighbors will take an active part in the youth program at the Congress.

County Health Officer Urges Immediate Attention to Cancer Symptoms

During the period from 1915 to 1936 Alabama's death rate from typhoid decreased by nearly 90 per cent, its scarlet fever death rate by more than two-thirds, its diphtheria death rate by almost 54 per cent, and its tuberculosis death rate by more than 42 per cent.

During this same period, Alabama's death rate from cancer increased from 25.2 to 66.7 per 100,000 population, or more than 140 per cent.

The causes of cancer are not definitely known, although it is established that chronic irritation is a contributing cause. It is not due to germs and a tendency to it is probably not inherited.

Early cancer is curable and one should never delay in seeking treatment for suspected conditions.

Diagnosis of cancer is a matter for a trained physician.

Conditions that should especially arouse suspicion are lumps, particularly in the breast, or irregular bleeding or discharge, or sores that do not heal, particularly in the mouth, tongue or lips, and sudden changes in the rate of growth of a mole or wart.

Delay in seeking competent advice for suspected cancer conditions is likely to result fatally if cancer is really present.

Remember that early cancer is curable; have your semi-annual health examination, and do not neglect any condition when cancer might be suspected.—E. F. Sloan, M. D., County Health Officer.

Dr. Walter B. Jones Is New Commissioner

Montgomery, Ala.—Dr. Walter B. Jones, appointed commissioner of the State Conservation Department January 17, by Gov. Frank Dixon, is an ardent hunter and fisherman. Hunting wild ducks probably is his favorite sport, but he is also fond of quail shooting. He fishes for bass with casting rod, and is considered an expert in the art of gigging for flounders.

State geologist since 1927, Dr. Jones has been president of the Alabama Wildlife Federation since its organization two years ago, and has been active in keeping alive sentiment for restoration and protection of wildlife among the scores of conservation clubs and sportsmen's associations over the state. Dr. Jones has been a vice-president of the National Wildlife Federation for two years, and is a member of the executive committee and the legislative committee of the federation.

One of the new commissioner's first official acts was to restore the division of conservation planning and appoint Thomas A. Ford, of Mobile, as head of the division again. Mr. Ford served in the same capacity for two years ending in April, 1938, when the work was discontinued. During that time he organized county conservation councils in all 67 of the counties. This division maintains contact and co-operates with nearly 100 sportsmen's clubs and councils in various projects and educational programs.

Dr. Jones was born in Huntsville and received his preparatory education there. He was graduated from the University of Alabama in 1918 with A. B. degree, and in 1920 with M. A. degree. He received his Ph. D. degree from Johns Hopkins University in 1924. From then until 1927 he was assistant state geologist, when he succeeded Dr. Eugene A. Smith, deceased. Dr. Jones was a captain in the engineering corps during the World War and served overseas.

Ex-Soldiers Wanted For Army Reserve

Colonel Frederick A. Prince, Field Artillery, Recruiting Officer, U. S. Army, Room 519, Post Office Building, Montgomery, announced today that the War Department is desirous of having the newly organized branch of the national defense, the Regular Army Reserve, brought up to full strength of 75,000 as rapidly as possible.

Ex-soldiers under 36 years of age are now offered an opportunity of enlisting in the reserve in the grade held at time of discharge from the Regular Army and reservists already enlisted will be promoted to the grade held by them at time of discharge.

Colonel Prince advises that it is much to the interest of all ex-soldiers under 36 years of age to take advantage of this opportunity, and to remain with the service on an inactive status. Recruiting stations where enlistment may be secured are located in the Post Office Building, Montgomery, Dothan, Gadsden, Birmingham, and Decatur, Alabama; Memphis, Jackson, and Knoxville, Tennessee. Ex-soldiers who reside near a Regular Army Post may also secure enlistment by reporting to that post.

NEW NO. 1 BEAN GIVES HIGH YIELD

Auburn, Ala.—Alabama No. 1, a new variety of pole beans introduced last year by the Alabama Experiment Station, proved outstanding as a home-garden vegetable in tests all over the South during the summer of 1938, reports Keith Barrons, assistant plant breeder at the Alabama Experiment Station.

"During the past five years this strain, which is highly resistant to the root-knot nematode disease, proved an outstanding yielder in tests at Auburn. It will out-yield many old favorites on land that is free from nematodes as well as in areas where this pest is prevalent. In carefully conducted yield trials at Auburn last summer, Alabama No. 1 produced 5 per cent more than Ideal Market or Cornfield and twice as much as Kentucky Wonder.

"The superiority of Alabama No. 1 over these other varieties was found to be far greater on poor than on richer soils. Kentucky Wonder yielded only two-thirds as much on poorer soil as on plots of greater fertility, but Alabama No. 1 gave almost the same yield on the two soil types. This does not mean that fertilizer is unnecessary in order to grow this new variety; however, it seems to make more efficient use of available plant food."

NEW PRACTICE IS SHOWING PROGRESS

Auburn, Ala. — A practice that until recently was considered a joke was today offered as evidence that Alabama agriculture is making steady progress. That practice is fertilizing pastures which farmers, until recent years, classed as a "crazy idea" but today is a general practice on thousands of Alabama farms, according to J. C. Lowery, extension agronomist.

There are still some farmers who believe that corn and cotton and other crops need fertilizer for more plant food but that pasture plants should be able to get along without it," Mr. Lowery says.

On most Alabama soils phosphorus and calcium are needed by pasture plants more than other plant foods. Because of the extra growth of the plants, pasture demonstrators in the State point to the fact that livestock want to graze all of the time on fertilized areas of the pastures.

"One demonstrator reports that he never has any trouble finding his mules and cows in the pasture because they are always on that part of the pasture where he had applied phosphate and lime," the agent states.

Put idle acres to work by making them grow a good pasture this spring is Mr. Lowery's advice to those farmers who do not already have a good well-fertilized pasture for their livestock. Details on fertilization and seeding of best pasture mixtures will be furnished by the county agents upon request.

LEIBOWITZ TO PRESS "FREEDOM PROMISE"

New York, Jan. 23.—Samuel S. Leibowitz, counsel for the "Scottsboro boys," charged today that Atty.-Gen. Albert A. Carmichael of Alabama had not kept a promise to free four of the Negro youths within two years.

He said he would present details to the American Bar Association.

Leibowitz said that at a conference in New York in January, 1937, Mr. Carmichael promised to free within two years Andy Wright, Clarence Norris, Heywood Patterson, and Charley Weems. Subsequently they were sentenced for long terms.

Replacing Work Stock Is Needed

Auburn, Ala.—Due to the high price of mules there is an increasing number of Alabama farmers who are keeping one or more mares and raising their own replacements. A mare is able to do enough work to pay for her keep and her yearly colt represents clear gain, according to Dr. R. S. Sugg, livestock specialist of the State Extension Service.

It is estimated that there were approximately 6,000 mule colts and 2,000 horse colts produced in the State last year. This represents about one-fourth of the number required for replacements, so while progress is being made, further expansion is needed to meet home needs.

In order to further encourage the production of mules, a recent community colt show was sponsored by the Rotary Club of Gordo, Pickens County, in cooperation with Ed Lowder, county agent, and Ira C. Kuykendall, local instructor in vocational agriculture, at which several profit-making mares were exhibited. One mare was shown with one three-year-old, one two-year-old, and a yearling colt, and is expected to give birth to still another colt in the spring. The mare is eight years old and has made annual crops.

A second mare, twelve years old, had her first colt when she was three years old. The first colt was a filly and has since had a mule colt of her own. Subsequently, the mother mare has had two colts and is expected to give birth to another in the spring. This mare has also made crops each year. Twenty colts and brood mares, two jacks, and one stallion were exhibited. There is at least one jack in each Alabama county, Sumter reports 25.

Television At N. Y. World's Fair

Model of building where television will be introduced to the public at the New York World's Fair 1939.

RESPONDING to the rapidly mounting interest in the advent of public television, which is expected to coincide with the opening April 30 of the New York World's Fair 1939, the Radio Corporation of America has announced a decision to almost completely revise its exhibition plans at the Fair in order to increase the scope and effectiveness of the television presentation.

Original plans for the RCA exhibit building at the Fair, drawn up more than a year ago, provided six ground-floor rooms where television was to be viewed under conditions simulating those of the home. Because these accommodations are now looked upon as inadequate, it has been decided to redesign the ground floor arrangement to greatly enhance the utility of the available space. With architects working in collaboration with radio engineers, a style of television presentation wholly different from and far more comprehensive than the one at first contemplated is expected to evolve.

While detailed information about the new plans will not be available for several weeks, it is known now that two of the original viewing rooms will be retained for the purpose of presenting the Television Living Room of Today and the Radio Living Room of Tomorrow. The television living room will feature the type of home furnishing in common use today, but centering around a television receiver of the kind that will be available this Spring. The Radio Living Room of Tomorrow, decorated with the most advanced styles in modern furniture, will present in one cabinet means for receiving sound broadcasting, television, facsimile broadcasting, and for phonographic recording and phonographic record playing. This idea is from five to ten years in advance of present-day practicalities.

The RCA exhibit building, which has just been completed, is shaped like a huge radio tube affixed to a base and the whole lying on its side. Surrounding three sides of the building are beautifully landscaped gardens, where mobile television units, a motor yacht equipped with radio devices for communication and safety at sea, and a 250-foot radio antenna tower will be exhibited.

Mrs. Rhodes and Mr. Thompson Wed

A wedding of much interest was that of Mrs. Amelia Rhodes to Mr. Ben L. Thompson, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Brenner, Forkland, Florida, on December 15, 1938. The Rev. Charles Lidell, pastor of the Methodist Church, Forkland, read the nuptial ceremony in the presence of relatives and friends.

The home was effectively arranged with palms, Christmas greens and pot flowers forming a pretty altar. The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, H. M. Brenner. She wore a smart ensemble of black crepe with black and white accessories. Mrs. Charles Cockrell, niece of the bride, played the wedding march. The couple left after the ceremony for York, where they will make their home.

GIRL SCOUTS

Troop 2 of the Girl Scouts met in the Elementary School Tuesday, January 24.

The following seven girls who had passed all the Tenderfoot tests were invested into the troop in a very impressive ceremony: Virginia Barnes, June Mitchum, Carolyn Ray, Marjorie Jones, Edine Sellers, Sarah Barr, and Margaret Bickler. Groups met in patrols to plan for the party to be given to celebrate going into the Girl Scout "Little House."

Margaret Bickler passed the music and dancing, and arts and crafts tests toward Second Class rank and Tootsie Clayton completed all the tests that were required and is now a Second Class Girl Scout. In connection with these tests Maryaret made a cup towel and Tootsie a pot-holder which they contributed to the equipment of the "Little House."

Miss Ribble, captain, Mrs. J. T. Bagwell, lieutenant, Miss Peck, lieutenant, and the following girls were present: Mayo Baker, Virginia Barnes, Betty Cain, Tootsie Clayton, Alice Ray Clemmons, June Mitchum, Peggy Davis, Mary Jean Kennerly, Billie Mitchell, Frances Nybeck, Carolyn Ray, Sara Henry Reynolds, Julia Rogan, Marjorie Jones, Edine Sellers, Pat Weems, Edna Wells, Sarah Barr, Margaret Bickler and Dama Wills.

D.A.R. Entertained At College View

Miss Josephine Eddy, assisted by Mrs. L. J. Bohn, entertained the David Lindsay Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at the College View Apartments on Monday evening, January 23. Thirteen members and three guests were present.

During the business session the chapter assumed obligation to pay for one acre of the new model farm of the Kate Duncan Smith School at Grant, Alabama. The regent, Mrs. W. J. Kennerly, and Mrs. E. H. Wills were named as delegates to the state meeting in Birmingham next month. Alternate are Mrs. Robert Holcombe of Calera and Mrs. E. G. Little of Boothton.

Mrs. Wills, chairman of Student Loans, reported a total of $425 in loan scholarships at Alabama College. Fifty dollars of this amount was given by the David Lindsay Chapter and the remaining $375 by other chapters of Alabama, the local chapter serving as custodian of this fund.

Mrs. LeBaron gave an excellently illustrated talk on artists and painters of the pre-Revolutionary period.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses to the following members: Mesdames Holcombe, Kennerly, LeBaron, Little, Lyman, Napier, Reynolds, Vauhan, Wills, Bowden, Dr. Peck, and Misses Farmer, Dennis, and Palmer, guests.

Carmichael Refuses Comment on Case

Montgomery, Jan. 23—Lieut. Gov. Albert A. Carmichael today declined to comment on charges by Samuel Leibowitz of New York that while attorney-general of Alabama he failed to keep a promise to secure freedom for four of the "Scottsboro boys."

"I have absolutely nothing to say," Mr. Carmichael told the United Press. "I'm through with the Scottsboro case. I know nothing about his (Leibowitz) statements."

Carmichael was attorney-general until his induction as lieutenant governor last week and had been a member of the State Pardons Board which recommended several months ago that no clemency be extended the four Negroes serving long terms in the notorious attack case. Then Gov. Bibb Graves acted on the board's recommendation by refusing to grant pardons.

Campaign Against Paralysis

Alabamians were urged today by Dr. J. N. Baker, State Health Officer, to take part in the "financial enlistment" of friends of childhood in the annual campaign against poliomyelitis, or infantile paralysis, which is now under way and will reach its climax next Monday evening, when birthday balls will be held the country over for the raising of additional funds for the support of the year-round campaign against this crippling disease.

"Ninety-nine cases of poliomyelitis were reported to the State Department of Health last year, and 13 deaths were attributed to it in this State during the first 11 months of the year," he said. "These figures, fortunately, are considerably lower than those for the epidemic year of 1936, but they are sufficiently high to show that this disease still constitutes a health problem in Alabama, as it does the country over. It is hoped that Alabama people will do their part in the raising of funds needed for this important work."

County Committee

The Infantile Paralysis Foundation Committee for Shelby County is as follows:

Harris M. Gordon, Columbiana, county chairman; Mrs. Lena Merrill, Columbiana; Dr. E. F. The association enjoyed a message in song by Miss Utterback. She was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Givhan.

The speaker for the day was the state secretary, Mrs. Ida Stallworth, from Montgomery. At the 11 o'clock hour she spoke on "The Love of Christ Constrains Us."

During the lunch hour a delicious plate lunch was served by the Montevallo society.

The afternoon session was opened by singing "I Love to Tell the Story." The Young People's leader, Mrs. D. Z. Woolley, held a conference for the young people's leaders. Mrs. Stallworth talked to the association again in the afternoon on the work of the W. M. U. and explained the new report blanks to the association.

Calera won the attendance banner and the pin was given to Underwood for the splendid work done during the past quarter.

Rightly enough, radio stars are probably the most real people in the entire entertainment world. Of course, when it comes right down to it, scratch almost any celebrity and you'll find "real folks" underneath, but radio stars seem to have kept their sense of balance exceedingly well. Most of them, because of the nature of their work, have stuck pretty much to the microphone and real homes. Stars like Lum 'n' Abner, Amos 'n' Andy, Fibber McGee, Bob Burns, Uncle Ezra, Al Pearce and Tommy Riggs have won their fame by their homey qualities and the other stars seem to realize that they are as much a part of home entertainment as singing around the parlor piano—and they govern themselves accordingly.

50 YEARS' SERVICE

Ranks of the old-time family retainers were lessened by one Friday when Charles W. Smith, Negro, born 82 years ago to slave parents in Selma, died at the home of Mrs. Farley Harris, 3121 Carlisle-rd, Birmingham, for whose family he had worked for the past 50 years.

Smith first left Alabama to accompany the late William F. Aldrich to Washington. Mr. Aldrich was congressional representative of the Alabama fourth district during the administration of Theodore Roosevelt. Smith later returned to Alabama and continued to work for the Aldrich family. Mrs. Harris is a great-granddaughter of the congressman.
